HAN SPIRIT EMERGES AS LONE BRIGHT SPOT . .

There has been more than too much of word mongering between our side and theirs, and as th' enemy finally went too far, it was a showdown that sooner or later was inevitable. In Beirut it was a classic case of havin' gotten mired down into a situation where our men were there with their hands tied. Some of th' Marine guards who might have been able to head off that truck were not even allowed to carry live arms.

P.J. Cook of Belle Fourche, S.D., was elected president of the American Sheep Producers Council Thursday at the council's 35th annual meeting in Denver. Tim Indart of Colvia, Calif., was elected vice president and Edgar Olson of Fosston, Minn., was elected secretary-treasurer.

The ASPC was created in 1955 by sheepmen as a self-help program to promote their primary products, lamb and wool, and is supported by over 80,000 producers.

The Executive Committee selected Sam Chouhara of Trenton, Utah, as the new chairman of the Wool Advisory Committee, and reappointed Peter Clathis of Grand Junction, Colo., as chairman of the Lamb Advisory Committee.

AMARILLO—Issues facing the beef industry will be discussed next month by a panel of industry leaders from the nation's three major beef organizations. The panel will assemble during the annual convention of the Texas Cattle Feeders Association, Nov. 15-16 at the San Antonio Hyatt Regency Hotel.

Don Butler, chairman of the U.S. Meat Export Federation; Jim Mullins, chairman of the National Live Stock and Meat Board; and W. J. Wilder, president of the National Cattlemen's Association, will make up the panel. They will address the topics, "Strategies for Cattleman in the '80s," Dr. L. S. Pope, University of Missouri, and the University Department of Animal Sciences, will moderate the panel.

"Many important industry issues will have an impact on cattle feeders in one way or another," said Jim Peterson, convention manager and TCF's membership director. "The industry-wide product promotion campaign, the government's farm programs, the dairy diversion program and other current legislation, and the growing international beef trade are among the legislative panel topics."

Also on the convention program at TCFA is resident Charlie Koontz who is general manager of Okon Feedyard. He will update convention registrants.

During the past week and in the early trading this week the prices of livestock and red meat were again on the on-saga, off-saga track as trading got underway early this week. The yo-yo pattern of movement and prices started out about the same as has been the case for several weeks. General and heavy rains in areas that had been in drought brought relief to field and pasture conditions and some of the open areas where some grazing will be available in pastures and the prospects for winter grain pastures appeared good to excellent over the grain belt.

Liquidation of cows continued with most markets reporting large percentages of slaughter cows as cattlemen culled to get herds into shape for the winter months. Calves and lightweight yearlings continued to lead the parade to higher prices as stockers and feeders showed some feeble recovery. Cows were reported temporarily on the sidelines watching fat cattle markets and feed prices.

And in the central markets Monday prices of fed steers and heifers were mostly weak to unevenly lower as the carcass trade opened on a weak to lower trend. Markets supplies of slaughter cattle were about 1,500 larger than a week ago. Slaughter cows and bulls were weak to mostly unevenly lower at these reporting markets. Monday's estimated cattle kill at 136,000 was 5,000 above a week ago and 4,000 less than a year earlier.

Hog prices were mixed as markets in the west were generally lower and those in the eastern sectors were steady to firm. Saleable hogs at these markets were off about 4,000 compared with last week. Monday's estimated hog kill at 842,000 was 15,000 under last week, but 39,000 ahead of a year ago. Price trends, quoted by grade, for choice, prime, steers and heifers the mixed good and choice grades and on good choice Holstein steers and on U. S. 1 hogs scaling mostly 200 to 270 or 210 pounds included:

surpluses. The beef producers argue the proposal offers no long-term solution to over production and encourages dairy cow slaughter in direct competition with the unsubsidized beef cow slaughter.

Seeligen said the provision would cost taxpayers millions of dollars, severely hurt the beef industry and wouldn't prevent future milk surpluses funded by taxpayers.

If the Conable amendment fails, TSCRA asks Congress to defeat the compromise dairy legislation when it comes up for debate in the House.

On another issue, the cattlemen restated their opposition to federal encroachment on private property rights. Seeligen said TSCRA members are understandably upset over proposals by Agriculture Secretary John R. Block that would be "the first step down the road toward a 'back door' approach to federal land use planning."

TSCRA voted against Block's proposed change in the Farmland Protection Act because "it could lead to permanent zoning of agricultural lands, severe restrictions on the right of the owner to sell his lands for other uses, costly litigation and restriction of free enterprise decisions by local communities."

The cattlemen urged President Reagan, Secretary Block and Congress to adopt farm protection policy emphasizing voluntary programs, cost-sharing and technical assistance. The cattlemen also came out in support of a National Animal Health Information Center to be operated by the National Brucellosis Task Force. They endorsed funding epidemiological research to discover management practices reducing the incidence of brucellosis, a highly contagious, reproductive cattle disease. They also liked the idea of the task force researching the biology of the brucellosis organism and defense mechanism in cows. The development of an improved vaccine and diagnostic test got their support. In the long-term, TSCRA supported the budgetary requests of USDA's Agricultural Research Service to accomplish these goals. A slate of speakers discussed Central munition in their guns. This kind of State Department lily livered approach should never be allowed to happen again. Th' only bright spot in this whole mess was the way those Americans accepted their fate and expressed a desire to go back and instead of giving up they would like to get even and they should be given that privilege. Respect we have if we are to expect it. Easy to behave themselves in civilized fashion. It is too bad we are still handicapped by some th' Jane Fonda and other similar less than respectable American patriots.

Th' Grenade invasion was something that had to be done and the sooner it better. One thing you can always be on is that th' Communists will come quit nibbling and nibbling until they are sure you really mean it when you say "so far, and no farther". They have been inching their way into Central and South America and have been able to disregard our warnings. It seems obvious now that they know there are limits as to how much th' United States will tolerate.

Th' fact that recruiting offices were swamped by young men wanting a part of th' action, and many of them were proud former Servicemen who had military in their background, is th' best evidence that this generation of young people are proud of their country and willing to defend it.

Along with our prayers for these young people there goes a feeling of pride in them and in America that has been cluttered up by fancy thinking is too long.

All America says thank you to the Army, Navy, Air Force and Marine. Ever thine,
The Redditer.

P.S.: Uncle Dunk says what this country really needs is a law by which our Defense Contractors can be prosecuted for selling 12c wrenches to military for $9.800, as was reported the other day by Congressman Rusk. Somebody ort to spend some time behind bars in cases like this. Paid some of those guys in cages might mean we would get a lot more bang for th' buck! — Thassall, Brother!

"The Changers" THE DURHAM BULL

THE BEST OF BOTH WORLDS!

Yes, the Durham bull, he's been covering rangelands and pastures since the beginning of the American cattle industry. Today he is bigger, bolder, more versatile than ever before.

The Durham bull and Today's Shorthorns can give you the best of both worlds, calves that grow rapidly and efficiently and can bring you the top dollar, and females to keep as replacements that will make the best cows you've ever owned.

Research Proves

- More Milk — Recent research data concludes that Shorthorn cross cows do produce more milk and wean heavier calves when compared to other breeds. That same research showed that Shorthorn sired steers having a clear advantage in average daily gains and frame scores.
- Fertility and Calving Ease — In another test with over 50,000 calvings of all breeds, the Shorthorn influence had the lowest number of calving difficulties with less than one calving problem per 100 calvings. Shorthorn bulls also proved greater fertility by settling more cows in less time when turned out with bulls of other breeds.
- Feedlot Performance — Recent A.S.A. Sire Tests summaries also show that 200 Shorthorn sired steers reached market weight of 1,152 pounds at 14 1/2 months of age with only 90 days on full feed. These steers had an average yield grade of 2.7 and 86 per cent grading low-choice or better.
- Profitability — Today's Beef Industry calls for the breed that can do all things equally well, produce progeny that grow fast, females that milk well, calves easy and breed back quickly and most importantly, provide bulls that cover the country and settle cows effectively.

The Durham Bull And Today's Shorthorns, Shouldn't You Profit From Their Influence?

Lucky 13 On Its Way

The 13th Annual Convention is well on its way to becoming history, and will soon be planning for #14. Before the luncheon, be sure to make your reservations and attend Lucky 13, January 17-21, in Denver. Several important and exciting announcements will be made at the 13th Annual Membership Meeting on January 19. A guest speaker is being lined up, and there might be some special guests.

Registration information will be mailed out after the first of November and pre-registration will be available at the Maine-Anjou booth at the American Royal and N.A.I.E. as well as the latest edition prints. Printing delays make it impossible to have the prints in time. The prints are now ready and the artist is signing and numbering them. The prints will be distributed to those who pre-register for the convention by the pre-registration deadline of Dec. 15.

The original water-color painting, "At the Waterhole", used to make the plate, will be auctioned at the Awards banquet during the Convention. Cindy Fenn is the artist who created the painting.

The prints will be distributed in specific order as pre-registrations are received. So, register early for the Convention to reserve yourself a low number print and make your plans now to attend the Convention in January.

Convention Special
A special rate for car rental during the 1983 Annual Meeting has been obtained from O'Meara Car Rentals. The rate will be $18.95 per day. The car rental agency has an office in the Stapleton Plaza Hotel, the Convention headquarters. The representative from O'Meara will need 5 days notice to have a car ready, so if you need a car in Denver, call them. Phone: 808/877-0877.

Calendar To Be Printed
The AMAA will be printing a very special calendar in 1984. Deadline for ad will be January 15, 1984, and months will be sold for advertising on a first come, first serve basis. Kentucky was a part of Virginia until 1792 when it became a state.

Directors To Be Elected
New directors for the AMAA will be elected at the 13th Annual Convention and Membership Meeting in Denver. At the Board Meeting in Tulsa, Jerry Bogardus set-up the Nominating Committee to receive the nomination for directors from the three regions of the AMAA.

Directors with terms expiring in 1984 are: Larry James - Region 1, Ed Taylor - Region 1, Sid DeHann - Region 2, Jerry Fritzsche - Region 2, Jerry Rollings - Region 2, Hal Noelke - Region 3.

All of these directors are serving their first term on the Board and are eligible for re-election.

Nominations for directorships should be sent to the members of the Nominating Committee: D. Herbert, Chairman - Region 1, Elmer Severson - Region 2, Dr. R.C. Norman - Region 3.

A Royal Reception
Maine-Anjou activities at the American Royal in Kansas City, will begin on Monday, November 14, with the AMAA's Buffet Reception. The reception was started several years ago as part of the Convention activities when the Annual Membership Meeting was held in Kansas City. The Buffet/Reception has now become an annual event in conjunction with the American Royal. The reception will start at 7 p.m. and will be held in the Ladies Chamber of Commerce Room.

For the prevention and treatment of the early stages of shipping fever complex, Oxytetracycline is effective prophylaxis when fed 5-6 days preceding shipment and/or 5-6 days following arrival in feedlots. For treatment of shipping fever, these levels should be fed at onset of disease symptoms until symptoms disappear. Follow feeding directions and warning statement on back of bag.

Why Rebound Delivers      How      You'll Profit

PNP Protected Natural Protein
PNP Protected Natural Proteins provide faster gains at lower cost. They pass the rumen to the fourth stomach which provides improved quality and quantity of protein available for fast growth. Tests show 27% better feed efficiency over soybean meal through better feed utilization.

Tests show Terramycin promotes excellent gains at less cost.
Test made by Pfizer comparing Terramycin with other popular antibiotics showed calves weighing an avg. 415 lbs. gaining 2.13 lbs./day at 6.3 lbs. feed/gain at 48.1¢ lb./gain with Terramycin. Competitive antibiotics provided less gain at 16¢ more cost.

Combined buffers proven most effective over standard single buffers.
Just like a person with indigestion, stressed calves need multiple buffers to treat acid build-up. The combination of Sodium Bicarbonate, Magnesium Oxide and Calcium Carbonate is most effective in controlling rumen pH.

Calves stay healthy; keep gaining through stress periods.
During the periods you expect sickness, weight loss and possible deaths, Rebound stress feed not only protects your calves, its unique protected protein formula produces as much as a 7% avg. daily gain over soybean meal. Tests showed an avg. 2.19 lb. daily gain on 236 to 430 lb. calves.

Already sick calves get turned around quick.
Rebound stress feed has higher levels of antibiotic. And, the medication is flexible so more can be fed at times of highest stress. Tests show Terramycin fed 2 grams/day gets calves healthy fast.

Excellent results at an affordable price.
By the bag you'll find Rebound stress feed very price competitive. More important, your calves efficiently gain with a minimum of feed.

EVERGREEN

and cowman from Goldthwaite, Texas. This group brought $81.50. Compared to the regular run of calves from 500-600 lbs. In the sale, the preconditioned calves realized a premium of from $2.50 to $11.00. Guy Echols, Purina dealer from Richardson, Texas and sponsor of the sale in conjunction with Ralston Purina, said that preconditioning is a widely accepted concept in most cattle producing states, but not yet common in Texas. With results like these shown in this first sale, cattlemen should take a good hard look at this profitable program.

Echols offered the control group of 18 calves which had followed the preconditioning program, which he explained requires calves to be dehorned, castrated and healed before shipment. The program advises wearing calves into small pens with fresh hay and water the first day. On the second day, the hay should be replaced by a pelleted complete ration which should be fed for 21 days prior to sale. Results of the control group fed 28 days at the Stockyards were most significant. An average daily gain of 2.70 lbs./head, a feed conversion of 4.49 lbs./lb. of gain, a feed cost of $0.46 per lb. All the demonstration group was fed on Purina Preconditioning-Receiving Chow. This sale has proved that preconditioning will work in Texas as it has in other states and the cowman can get premium for his calves when the program is followed. If you want more information on this program and sale contact Guy Echols at Echols Farm Supply, 107 S. Interurban, Richardson, Texas, 214/281-8116.

Premium Prices Paid For Certified Preconditioned Calves At Ft. Worth

FT. WORTH, TX — A special sale of Certified Preconditioned Calves in conjunction with the Stockyards Stock-Feeder Sale October 27 drew big interest and brought top dollar to the 78 calves represented. The calves offered ran generally heavier and healthier because of the preconditioning program which they had been on. All the calves differed in this special sale were veterinarian-certified to have been preconditioned by their producers at least four weeks before the sale.

Dr. Harris Cleere, the stockyards veterinarian who certified the calves in this sale agreed with other cowmen that the inclusion of preconditioning programs will vastly improve the reputation of Texas cattle and their value to feeders, fetching better prices to Texas cow-calf producers. All the calves were judged below the sale. The first place group of 19 calves was owned and preconditioned by Jim Muse, a Simmental breeder
